A hand-drawn diagram on blue grid paper illustrating a game system architecture. The diagram is organized into several sections:

- Top Left: A vertical column of five empty square boxes, likely representing a list of items or a stack.
- Top Center: A box labeled "NAME" with the subtext "name / class..." below it.
- Top Right: A box labeled "Level" with "Exp: " and a horizontal line below it.
- Middle Left: A box labeled "HP" with "temp" written inside it. Below this box is the label "AC".
- Middle Right: A box labeled "Hit Die".
- Center: The text "skills" with a long vertical arrow pointing downwards from it.
- Bottom Left: A large horizontal box labeled "Tabs".
- Bottom Center: A circle containing a small cube icon, with the word "Roll" written below it.
- Bottom Right: A bracketed area containing the text "Attack Damage initiative check saving throw".
